VOL. XII--NO. 135.

RALEIGH, N. C., SUNDAY MORNING, AUGUST 4, 1878.

$5.00 PER ANNUM

Thursday's defection to the Democratic party was a damnable disgrace.

There never was a time when party lines should be more distinctly drawn than now.

Every independent vote cast on Saturday last, was a vote to make President in 1880.

Every independent vote cast on Saturday, was a vote to restore millions at the South.

Little would have beaten Vance over thousand votes if the election had been what it was on Thursday last.

Corresponding action on the part of Democracy of the States with that of North Carolina on Thursday last, will make the next Congress two-thirds Radical.

The Democracy of the Northern and Western States, will read the returns of the North Carolina elections with mingled feelings of disappointment and disgust.

If gentlemen prefer the Republican to the Democratic party, they could have adopted no surer means for attracting their choice than to have voted for the Independents in this State did Thursday last.

Every independent vote cast on Saturday was a vote to suspend the writ of habeas corpus and send Kirk and his minions again on their mission of arresting and imprisoning free citizens.

Society is responsible for having lured the people into the support of independent candidates in the election of Thursday, and the sooner that responsibility is fixed, the better for the Democratic party and the State.

Eight years ago to-day the Democratic party was rejoicing the length and breadth of the State for its great victory over Radicalism, but if the Democrats who on Thursday voted independent tickets had failed to support the party nominees in 1870, there would have been no relief from Radical rule to this day.

It may seem a small matter to the ordinary mind, whether the regular nominee or an equally good Democrat was elected to the Legislature independent of the county convention, but if this thing of supporting independent candidates shall give the next Congress to the Radicals, it will not seem such a trifling circumstance to the public at large.

Honoring England's Plenipotentiaries.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The following is the programme of the civic honors to be paid Beaconsfield and Salisbury to-day. Distinguished guests to arrive in the city at 5 o'clock p.m., to be received at the entrance, Guild Hall, by the City Committee, wearing their robes, carrying as badges wands of office. Their lordships will be escorted through a temporary pavilion in Guild Hall yard, conducted to the Library and received by Lord Mayor, Lady Mayor, and Civic dignitaries, wearing their official robes, subsequently the procession will be formed to move to the Great Hall, where Beaconsfield and Salisbury will be conducted to the dais, and take places at the right of the Lord Mayor. Members of the Common Council of the city of London will be seated with seats in front of the Dais. The usual formalities will be gone through with as if an ordinary Court of Common Council were held. The town clerk will read resolutions agreed to by the Common Council for presenting the freedom of the city to the plenipotentiaries. The City Chamberlain will then address their Lordships and invite them to take upon themselves the freedom of the city and offer to each the right hand of friendship. Beaconsfield and Salisbury will reply and the Court will at once adjourn. The guests of the day leaving Guild Hall with the Lord Mayor in a carriage will proceed to the Mansion House, where a ministerial banquet will take place in Egyptian Hall. The Hall is very brilliant. The floral decorations are remarkable, embracing seven thousand passages, with fountains playing at intervals.

ORGAN OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Congressional Nominations.

FOR CONGRESS, THIRD DISTRICT:
ALFRED M. WADDELL, of New Hanover.

FOR CONGRESS, SIXTH DISTRICT:
WALTER L. STEELE, of Rockingham.

FOR CONGRESS, SEVENTH DISTRICT:
ROBERT F. ARMFIELD, of Iredell.

ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5TH.

Congressional Convention.

A Convention of the Democrats and Conservatives of the Fourth District, will be held in the city of Raleigh, on Thursday the 22d, day of August next, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress. Each county will be entitled to one vote for every one hundred votes and fractional part over fifty, given for Gov. Vance in 1876.

By order of District Ex. Committee,

IL A. LONDON, Jr.

July 2, 1878.

The Democratic papers in the District will please copy.

To the Democratic party of the country at large, the North Carolina Senatorship was a matter of no consequence. The United States Senate after March will be Democratic, without North Carolina. Her two Senators could both be better spared than a single Democratic member of the House from the State.

The Independent voters of Thursday, have inspired the Republican leaders at the North with a hope of carrying four of the North Carolina districts for Congress, and the effort will be made to do so. Throughout the North, the Radicals have not had such hope of Congress since 1874, as the North Carolina election this year gives them.

The great public heart of North Carolina is with the Democratic party, but Democrats have been deluded into voting for Independent candidates, and the result of Thursday seriously imperils Democratic organization in the State. The responsibility for this state of things in the face of the Congressional contest of next November rests with those who have taught the people party insubordination.

Few Democrats of this State who voted Independent tickets on Thursday desire to see the Republican party re-enthroned in power in North Carolina; yet the effect of their action is to disrupt the Democracy, and that done the Radical party resumes control of public affairs. They have short memories who do not bring to mind the scenes of eight years ago, and the effort required of a united Democracy to rescue the State from the Radical ruin. The time approaches when the struggle will be again made for control of the State government, and unless the Democratic party presents a united front the Republicans will inevitably carry the day. Therefore, the evils to which Independent politics is in danger of remanding the people are the same from which the united Democratic party rescued them in 1870.

The Legislature Effect.

A list of the members elect to the General Assembly, corrected up to the latest hour is presented below, and recapitulates as follows:—

Democratic Senators already known to be elected 30

Senators still to hear from and in doubt 5

Republican Senators known to be elected 12

Independent Senators known to be elected 3

Democratic majority over 20
doubtful Republicans and Independents 10

The Senate being composed of fifty members it is therefore seen that the Democrats have ten majority of the whole body already.

The House of Representatives sums up thus:—

Democrats known to be elected 67

Members still to hear from, and doubtful 9

Republicans known to be elected 38

Independents and Nationals 6

Total doubtful, Republican and Independent 55

Democratic majority already over all doubtful, Republican and Independent 14

The House being composed of one hundred and twenty members, it is seen that the Democrats have, as thus far ascertained fourteen majority of the whole.

Taking the Senate and House together, the Democratic majority thus far on joint ballot is twenty-four.

The Senators and members of the House, reported as Democrats are caucus Democrats, and will abide the caucus decision, and whoever is nominated for Senator will receive the Democratic vote of the Legislature.

This ought to end the Senatorial squabble in the newspapers, unless it is the purpose to prejudice and operate upon the minds of the jury of the Legislature. As far as Governor Vance is concerned, he is a candidate for the Legislature, in the event of his nomination by the caucus, otherwise he will not be a candidate. Time and again has he declared that he would abide the decision of the caucus, and he would despise himself, and his friends would turn away from him, if he would take an election otherwise than at the hands of his party, whose organization he has always supported and maintained.

This resume of the election returns is satisfactory as to the complexion of the Legislature, but it can never cease to be a source of regret that Democratic voters were led off to the support of Independents, thereby inflicting severe injury upon the Democratic organization, and defeating some of the best men of the party.

—The State Treasurer has issued a drummer's license to T. J. McGruder & Co. of Baltimore.

Marches.

—The Court House was the centre of attraction yesterday, and the Board of Canvassers had an exceedingly warm time of it.

—Fayetteville street was the scene a mere last night after midnight. Blows and curses resounded far. The participants were arrested, and lodged in the station house.

—It is a scientific fact that the nine perfect tones of the human voice can be converted into 17,592,044 different sounds. That accounts for the discord raised, yesterday afternoon, while Tim Lee was speaking.

The Temperature.

The Democratic county candidates were last evening the recipients of a serenade at the Yarborough House. The music was furnished by the Oak City Brass Band. In response to calls, Senator elect Geo H. Snow, Esq., made a pleasant speech returning thanks to his friends for their support.

W. H. Pace, Esq., made a few remarks in which he spoke of the contest and its results.

Capt. T. F. Lee, next spoke, in effect, respecting his speech in the afternoon, of which mention is elsewhere made.

Sherwood Haywood, Esq., also spoke, and was followed by R. T. Gray. The latter gentleman pleasantly and feelingly alluded to the services of E. R. Stamps, Esq., in the campaign.

McRae, will deliver a lecture in Tucker Hall, on Wednesday evening next, at eight and a half o'clock, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association of Raleigh. We hope to see a full house on the occasion. The lecture is a popular one, the subject of which will be hereafter announced.

The Rains.

The rains appear to have been pretty general. There was a gale on the Neuse, north of the city, accompanied by a severe hail storm. The growing corn and other crops were badly beaten down. The lightning was incessant all the night, but had no effect, hardly, in cooling the atmosphere.

Nor will newspaper men be thanked for the news of the matutinal journal for the public eye, for if it fails to contain the latest news there is a howl from even the most slothful of its readers, who perhaps like to see the labor of its preparation.

We will contract for roofing at prices which will enable you to put up your bids (where there is any) at a lower price than ever, giving you an opportunity to use tin in place of shingles.
